

Cannabis Solutions for Local Independent Operators

Your One Ideal Partner for all of your compliance-driven security, fire and life safety needs.

ADT® Commercial

Responding to changing, complex industry compliance regulations and requirements

In the highly regulated cannabis industry, it is critical to find a security partner that understands the local and state requirements needed to protect your business and valuable inventory.

As a local independent operator, you can trust ADT Commercial to design a comprehensive security, fire and life safety plan that meets the often complex regulatory requirements necessary to open your doors and keep them open:

- Our risk management teams can help build your security plan from the ground up and we can help get you support throughout the licensing process from experts in the field.
- Our specialized fire and life safety team is backed by technicians, installers and inspectors who are NICET Certified through the National Fire Protection Agency (NFPA). They understand your business, landscape and risks, and will design and deploy your system with the most advanced engineering support.
- Ensure your facilities are protected around the clock with access to our dedicated commercial operations centers with redundant UL Listed monitoring for peace of mind, 24/7/365.
- Our scalable, product-agnostic approach means your security, fire and life safety program can advance to meet your needs, at your pace, as your business continues to grow.

Helping you protect your employees, customers and facilities—while keeping your valuable product inventory secure

You face security threats in the cannabis industry that are wide-ranging, constantly evolving, and can impact the profitability and success of your business. These threats can include employee and customer theft, fire and life safety issues, explosions and dangerous gas leaks during production, inventory loss or damage, burglary, armed intruders, workplace violence incidents, trespassing, vandalism and more.

We'll design a program that keeps life safety at the forefront, while focusing on loss prevention:

Fire and life safety

Integrated fire, fire suppression, and heat and gas detection systems uphold OSHA compliance and employee safety standards, and help minimize site damage and inventory loss should a fire, combustible gas or chemical release occur.

Burglar alarm systems and video solutions

Burglar alarm systems with varying sensors and targeted placements can help curb incidents of theft by detecting vibration, motion, or glass breakage. Integrating these systems with video surveillance solutions can trigger cameras upon alarm and provide law enforcement with necessary evidence should a break-in occur.

Many local regulations also require 24/7 video surveillance. Always-on cameras help reduce incidents of employee theft while satisfying mandatory video resolution and storage requirements, which often vary by state.

Perimeter and physical security

Enhanced physical security and hardened perimeter protection keep intruders out and safeguard facilities and product inventory.

Cash handling

Cash handling solutions like ATMs and ITMs help provide smooth retail operations and customer satisfaction while you protect your profit with UL vaults and safes.

Helping protect the unique facilities of the cannabis industry

No matter what type of facility you operate, we understand your threats and challenges and are ready to support you with premier security, fire and life safety solutions, 24/7 monitoring and expert risk management and advisory services.
